

UGC--MINOR RESEARCH PROJECT-

“IMPACT OF FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT (FDI) ON AGRICULTURE IN RURAL AREA” Study coverage in North Karnataka

Summary of the Findings:-

As most of the respondents in the rural area were not aware of FDI. Their awareness of FDI was brought through field assistant and the researcher after conducting the survey in the villages.

The implementation of FDI in agriculture which may bring some changes in their cultivation by utilization of modern technologies and with innovative measures in the field of agriculture. This may also help in bringing the small segmented land together for cultivation which is unused for longer period. Thus it may help in putting an end to the rural migration of the people from rural to the urban areas.
